

Metropolitan Street Railway Company

ROBERT J. DUNN AND FORD F. HANVY, RECEIVERS

TO THE PUBLIC!

CHANGES IN STREET RAILWAY ROUTINGS NOW IN EFFECT

The opening of the new Union Station necessitates a re-routing of several of the street railway lines. The passengers' time and convenience were considered first in making these changes; next came the avoidance of congestion of street car and vehicle traffic.

Under the new service about 56 cars will be operated past the new Union Station in either direction during the busiest evening hours. These are the new routes:

INDEPENDENCE-ROCKHILL:
The former Independence Ave. Union Depot line will operate from Hardesty and Independence Ave. on Independence Ave. as heretofore, but will turn south over Walnut St. and hence to the Union Depot via 19th and Main Sts.

NORTHEAST LINE:
The Northeast line will be operated as heretofore, excepting that it will turn north from 12th St. instead of continuing to the south on Grand Ave. from that point.

WOODLAND-CHELSEA LINE:
The Woodland line will operate as heretofore, excepting that it will turn into Main St. at 24th St. instead of at 15th St., as heretofore, and at 9th and Main Sts. it will turn west and proceed over the route now operated by the Chelsea line from 8th and Wyandotte Sts.

27TH STREET LINE:
The 27th Street line will be operated from the eastern terminus over the streets on which it now operates, but will terminate at 8th and McGee Sts., being disconnected from the present Chelsea line.

INDEPENDENCE (MO.) LINE:
The Independence, Mo., line will operate both ways on 12th St., west of Spruce St., as far as Broadway, looping at the present 12th St. loop (Broadway, 11th, Wyandotte and 12th Sts.), instead of on 8th and 9th Sts., Walnut St., 12th St. and Grand Ave., as heretofore. This is to relieve the congestion now existing on Walnut St., between 19th and 7th Sts.

BROOKLYN LINE:
The Brooklyn line will be operated as before from the east to 8th and Grand Ave. From this point it will proceed west over the Elevated Road, being consolidated with the present Quindaro line.

JACKSON LINE:
The Jackson line will operate as before, excepting that instead of turning west at 9th and Main Sts., it will be disconnected at that point from the Quindaro line and be operated around the present Main St., Delaware St. and 2nd St. loop, thus passing the City Market, the City Hall and north end of Kansas City, Mo.

DEPOT BELT LINE:
This is a new line, which temporarily will be operated on 18th St., 24th St., Grand Ave. and Main St., being operated in both directions. It is intended to directly connect line station with the business and hotel districts. Transfers can be made to this line from all intersecting lines, thus affording a direct and convenient route to the station.

Patrons of the Street Car Company will please note the above changes.

Mr. John Kennedy passed away Tuesday, October 27, at 1:52 a. m., after having suffered for a year from a paralysis of nerves from an operation performed to extract a tumor. He was a member of Goodwill lodge, A. F. and A. M., and Burleigh lodge No. 39, K. of P., at the time of his death. His funeral occurred from the A. M. E. church Wednesday afternoon, conducted by Rev. S. B. Anderson, assisted by Rev. J. L. Brooks, under the auspices of the Masonic and K. of P. lodges. Mr. Kennedy is survived by a brother, William Kennedy, and a sister, Mrs. Alice Murphy of Soto, and many friends. The following persons, some of whom are relatives and others were in the city this week on account of the death of Mr. Kennedy: Mr. A. J. Murphy, DeSoto; Mr. Thos. Cayce, Thos. Those who attended the funeral of little Hattie Louise Snyder from out of town were: Mrs. Hiram Hughes, Mrs. George Hughes and children, Mrs. Annie Pruitt and Mrs. Forest Ward and Mrs. Adda Birch and children of St. Joseph, and Mrs. Mattie Hicks of Mayville, Mo. The women of Kansas are equal to any emergency. Mr. and Mrs. Carl Holland of St. Joseph have returned to Troy to stay indefinitely. One of the prettiest scenes of the season was the Halloween party given by Miss Elsie Lair at her home Saturday afternoon from 3 to 5 in honor of her school children. The house was beautifully decorated in Halloween colors, Jack O'Lanterns, witches, bats, owls and cats and darkened with beautiful lights all around. Various games were played and each pupil was successful in finding the peanut bag and filling their hands with peanuts. Then they were blind folded again and tried planning the eyes in their proper places in the Halloween pumpkin. Little Lucille Hughes won first prize, it being a pretty toy cat, and Master Guy Hughes won second prize, a toy elephant.

plant. The children were served with a dainty repast of ice cream and cake in the Halloween colors, and when the evening was pleasantly spent it was too late for words to express how the children extended their congratulations to their teacher for having so nicely entertained them. The out of town guests were: Miss Hortense and Master Robert Holloway of Horton, Kas., and Miss Jeanita and Master Marion Birch and the little Misses Lillian and Florence and Master Charles Webster of St. Joseph, Mo.

When Wellington Was General.
The greatness of Wellington is never more admirably remembered than in times of strife—and perhaps never more usefully quoted. The duke one day wanted a bridge constructed, and the officer of the royal engineers whom he consulted on the matter reported that it could not be managed. Another officer was sent for, from another division of the army, with the result that the task was duly accomplished. This caused the duke to put the following in "Orders": "He who in war fails to do what he undertakes, may always plead the accidents which invariably attend military affairs; but he who declares a thing to be impossible, which is subsequently accomplished, registers his own incapacity." Another "wise saying" of Wellington comes from another reader, and it is appropriate to the moment. He was asked what was the best test of a great general, and he answered: "To know when to retreat, and to dare to do it"—London Chronicle.

Noncommittal.
Redd—Which of the cup-defense yachts do you think will win?
Greene—I dunno.
"Some say the number of letters in the yachts' names has something to do with it."
"So I heard."
"One of the yachts has eight letters and the others have seven."
"Yes, I know that."
"Well, what do you think are the chances?"
"Why, it looks like seven to eight."
Forcing a Sale.
Rough Customer (addressing gentleman on lonely road)—Excuse me, sir, but would you like to buy a nice little dawg?
Mr. Slim—No thanks very much. He looks as though he would bite.
R. C.—I won't bite yer if you buy 'im, guv'ner.—Punch.
